EVENT PRODUCTION AND REQUIREMENTS

The event producer shall supply, at their cost the following:

Four judges including Two (2) Official Judges for the WFA event, approved by WFA Administration

Pick-up Men - Depending on the classes offered, suitable pick-up men for smooth production of the event and for safety of cowboys/colts/etc.

Secretary, and a timer for the WFA event - Personnel hired must be familiar with the WFA point marking system, judging system, and reporting to WFA Administration. Where available, WFA personnel may be hired for those positions.

The event producer shall supply, at their cost, a Chute Boss and back-pen workers to help keep the WFA event running smoothly. Production is key for all events to maintain a professional event for both members and spectators.

Insurance. Event producer must have insurance to cover that event. The WFA is not liable for any issues at an event.

The event producer shall provide at least the minimum amount of $500 of added money per each class offered at the WFA event excluding the Yearling Class. Yearling Class has no minimum added money. The new Women's 2 Year Old Class will have a minimum of $250 added. Entry fees per horse shall be a minimum of $100 per head excluding the Yearling Class. Yearling class has no minimum entry fee. Cowboys have no minimum entry fee.

The event producer shall deduct a maximum of 20% of the entry fee/horse to cover event expenses. The deduction shall be noted so members are aware of that detail prior to event registration. There is no deduction allowed on Cowboy entry fees.

There are no minimum amount or configuration of classes required at a WFA event. i.e.: WFA event has an Open 2-year-old class only.

WFA events shall be held no later than the end of October of that competition year, any exceptions (like a special event) must be communicated to the WFA in a timely fashion. This requirement allows the WFA to get all horses in all classes tallied and ready for Year End Awards and the World Futurity Finale in Las Vegas in December of that year.

Results from WFA events shall be provided to the WFA Administration within the week of the event competition.

Event producer shall make every effort to have both a photographer and videographer at their events for media coverage and promotion of event and breeder/horse.

Once you submit your application, we will be expedient to notify you of approval and all other information pertinent in order to help you with your event.

Thank you so much for your application, we will get back to you shortly.
